

THE PARKLANDS

at Camas Meadows

Southwest Washington's premiere gated/golf course development has been carefully and intentionally designed to meet the needs of homeowners looking for the ideal site to build their custom dream home.

This highly-sought after location is truly unique and offers the best of luxury living in one of the fastest-growing population centers on the West Coast.

The active City of Camas is perfect for families in any stage, with gourmet restaurants, hot new breweries and coffee shops, shopping and entertainment. Just steps away from each property, a therapeutic trail winds through the community and connects to Camas Meadows Golf Course, a highly-acclaimed Parklands-style course. Nearby, Lacamas and Round Lakes call to kayakers and paddle boarders, while hiking, biking and other outdoor recreation is convenient and abundant. Whether you are visiting the course for a round of golf, exploring the trails and natural activities, or simply enjoying the incredible views from your back deck, your home at the Parklands has the location, access, and comfort you've been looking for.

With decades of experience in development planning, custom home building, and luxury real estate sales, your development team at the Parklands is the seasoned, thoughtful, and experienced team you need on a project of this size and importance. From beginning to end, the development team has your needs and desires in mind. Owners and staff alike are devoted to providing superior service, transparent operations, and clear communications at every step along your journey to building your dream home at The Parklands at Camas Meadows.
